

Air BNB Accounting Questionnaire

Year End 31st March 2024

Name:

Airbnb Property Address:

Trading as: circle one Trust / Ltd Company / Partnership / Sole Trader

Income earned from providing short-term accommodation is taxable in New Zealand. Generally, you will be allowed a deduction for the costs of providing the accommodation. The calculation for deductible expenses will vary depending on the use of the property.

- If the property is used for both private purposes (your own accommodation) and business purposes (Airbnb) then the Mixed-Use Asset (MUA) rules may apply to apportion the costs.
- The MUA rules apply to properties owned by individuals, partnerships, companies, and trusts.
- Where properties are held in family trusts or companies, there may be requirements to charge a deemed market rental for private use.
- If Airbnb and rental income exceeds $60,000 then you may be required to register for GST. You can voluntarily register at any income level and claim GST on the portion of Airbnb expenses.

1. How do you provide Airbnb accommodation? Please select ONE of the following options:

The Airbnb or short term stay property is a separate, stand alone property with a separate title from the private residence.

The Airbnb or short term stay is a separate building or cottage on land which does not hold a separate title to your private residence.

The Airbnb or short term stay is provided in a room within your private residence and guests do not have exclusive use of all of the house.

2. How do you provide Airbnb accommodation? Please select ONE of the following options:

Areas which are exclusively private:

These are areas that guests do not have access to at their discretion. This would include your bedroom, private bathroom and any other rooms or areas that guest are not provided unlimited access to.

Note: If you occasionally invite a guest to dinner or allow use of a private pool, at your discretion, then this may be considered private.

Areas which the Guest can use exclusively during their stay:

This will include their room, private bathroom, or cottage.

Communal, shared or living area:

These are rooms which can be used by both you and guests and may include a joint access bathroom, laundry or living areas.

Guest Accommodations used privately:

Days in which you, or your friends or family have used the Airbnb for private purposes and paid less than the market rate for the accommodation.

If your Airbnb is a holiday home, we do not require floor area as there is no private or shared areas. Expenses will be apportioned based on usage. Please advise days available, days used privately and days rented.

Room / Cottage	Floor Area	Business Use %	Days Rented	Days Available for Rental	Days used Privately*
Private Rooms or home		0%
Guest Room or cottage		100%
Shared living Area		%
Other		%

3. Claiming Expenditure

Costs directly related to the Air BNB activity may be fully claimed. This may include commissions, power costs if on a separate meter, food, cleaning expenses and advertising.

Costs which cannot be directly attributed to the Airbnb are apportioned based on floor area and days available. Private costs are non-deductible. Please ensure private costs are clearly identified.
